PROFILE

Content creator and online-community builder who also ships the technical tools behind the content — grew an audience for an AI/automation brand from scratch, running the content calendar, writing the copy, and building the bots it showcases. Comfortable in developer-facing spaces (APIs, webhooks, automation platforms) and able to turn technical products into content people outside engineering actually want to read and share. Self-directed, remote-first, and consistent about keeping a channel active week after week.

CORE SKILLS

Content & Community: Content calendars, short-form/faceless video strategy, copywriting, audience & prospect research, community engagement (Instagram, Reddit, Telegram, Discord-style communities)

Developer-Adjacent Technical Skills: REST APIs, Webhooks, JSON, Python, n8n workflow automation — enough fluency to build with a platform, not just talk about it

Tools: Microsoft Excel, Google Sheets, Canva, Microsoft Office, digital documentation

Languages: Arabic (Native), English (Professional Working Proficiency), French (Basic Communication)

Work Style: Self-motivated, independent remote work, consistent weekly output, strong written & verbal communication

EXPERIENCE

Founder / Content & Automation Lead — AutomEscape (@aicreatorflow) — Independent 2025 – Present

- Built and ran a social content operation from the ground up: a 30-day content calendar, a faceless short-form video strategy, and ongoing posting cadence for an AI/automation audience.
- Researched and scored target accounts/prospects to sharpen who the content was for — the same instinct needed to find developers in the right Reddit threads and Discord servers.
- Wrote all marketing and product copy in-house — brand voice, product descriptions, and promotional content — no outsourced copywriter.
- Designed and shipped working automations and bots (n8n, Python, REST APIs) so the content is backed by real, demoable tools instead of just talk.
- Communicated technical workflows in plain language — the core skill of turning a developer platform into content people actually understand.

Data & Workflow Quality Specialist — Independent Projects 2026 – Present

- Reviewed and structured business data and processes across connected systems (APIs, spreadsheets, automation tools), maintaining accuracy under deadline.

SELECTED PROJECTS

AI Google Calendar Assistant (n8n, OpenAI, Google Calendar API)

Built a scheduling automation that validates calendar data and triggers confirmations — proof of comfort integrating with a platform's API, the kind of build worth turning into a demo post.

Personal AI Telegram Assistant (Telegram API, OpenAI, n8n)

Built a bot that processes incoming text and voice messages and triggers rule-based actions inside a community-style chat platform.

Instagram Content & Growth System (Canva, content calendar, audience research)

Planned and executed a 30-day content calendar and faceless content strategy to grow an audience around AI tools from zero, including copywriting for every post.
